Existing topography allows construction above parking lot without eliminating parking spaces.

Best way to make N'gate Ped/Bike Bridge safe is people using it, creating Jane Jacobs' natural surveillance – "eyes on the street". Conveniently, there is potential to build hundreds of housing units at North Seattle College, housing which is needed for both students and for broader Seattle community. The College might consider modifying its Master Plan to add housing. The City of Seattle should do all it can to assist.
